To the Churches which compose the Raleigh Baptist Association.

BELOVED BRETHREN—As our custom is at the close of each session to address you by way of Circular, in our present we think proper to address you on the subject of Christian Vigilance; and also to urge upon you the necessity of the possession of a spirit that will untiringly prompt you to the same. Our Lord expressly told his disciples that they were the salt of the earth, (Mat. 5 ch. 13 v ) viz : that he designed them to be the saviour of the world, not primarily or officially, but instrumentally—how then are they to become the active instruments in the conversion of the world, unless they all, like a band of brothers of one mind, engage with one heart in the holy work? To further evince this great truth, that this is the office assigned them, our Lord says, in the same chap. 14 v. Ye are the light of the world ; a city that is set on a hill cannot be hid—and further, in the 15 & 16 v. Neither do men light a candle and put it under a bushel, but on a candlestick, and it giveth light to all that are in the house ; Let your light so shine before men that they may see your good works, and glorify your Father which is in Heaven. It is not enough, brethren, that you live a holy, pious, devoted life, and that the wicked, by looking upon you, be constrained to believe you have been with

believe that it is alone the diligent soul that shall be made fat, and when out of the footsteps of the flock we have no right to expect our souls to be fed with divine food; moreover we are expressly told that when Zion travaile she brings forth children. If this interesting truth is positively expressed, its counterpart is equally positively implied, to wit: that when Zion does not travail children will not be born to God; we should therefore dread the awful probability of our skirts being stained with sinners' blood; and with one mind and one consent arise from this state of apathy and shake off this spirit of moral supineness. Do we say with one mind? We do; for we esteem it important that we be of one mind; for how will our great work of evangelizing the world be impeded, while a part of our brethren set by in a state of perfect indolence; and while others are engaged heart and hand to further the great cause, they are not only suspicioning them of wicked design, but also charging them of having the most wicked purposes in view. Brethren, for the Lord's sake, and for the sake of your own souls, and for the sake of the souls of dying sinners, if you are determined to lie still yourselves, and let poor sinners stumble over you into hell, dont get in the way of your brethren, who are determined to devote their property and their lives to the cause—they have enough to bear without having you as a dead weight upon their souls, and against whom they will be obliged to bear witness in the great day of accounts. Oh! brethren, this opposition (let your excuse appear as plausible to you as it may) comes not from above, but we hesitate not to say that it is earthly and sensual, and savors not of the things that belong to God, but of men. Oh that God would give us grace to enable us to keep the unity of the spirit, in the bonds of peace; and that we may move forward in the great cause of God, being of one mind:
